- Lieu : Au-dessus de Río Blanco
  - Orientation : Nord-Est
  - Hauteur : 770m
  - Matériel : Rien
  - Posé : Landing is on the road, small patches of dirt roadside, or potentially the active railroad track on the other side of the river. Beware of the very high amount of wires along the road, and lots of mining traffic. This is a reasonable spot and straight out from the exit: -32.9191076, -70.2934194

I couldn't find a place I felt good parking in Río Blanco and parked roadside around here: -32.9111562, -70.2998644

The route is on FatMap. The start can be difficult to find and occasionally the route becomes faint. It was also labelled with faint black arrows or pink lines in places. Once you reach the viewpoint then just head up to and over the summit and down to the exit.
